TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

This is to certify that Mr. Samarathunga S.H.P.N.D and Mr. Perera K.C.D, undergraduate students of the Sri Lanka Institute of Information Technology (SLIIT), have successfully designed, developed, and implemented a customized Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) System for A R Natural Exports Lanka (Pvt) Ltd, a Sri Lankan export-oriented company registered under the SVAT Scheme and the producer of the RaaLa Kithul brand.

The ERP system was specifically developed to support and integrate the complete Kithul industry value chain and is recognized as the first tailor-made ERP solution developed for the Sri Lankan Kithul industry. The system integrates key business operations from field-level sap collection and farmer management through production, inventory management, distribution, export documentation, and sales processes.

The project scope included:

- Farmer and supplier management
- Kithul sap collection and collection center operations
- Raw material receiving and quality control
- Production planning and processing management
- Inventory and warehouse management
- Packaging and finished goods tracking
- Procurement and purchasing management
- Sales order processing and customer management
- Distribution and logistics coordination
- Financial reporting and management information systems
- Product traceability from field to final customer

The project was completed successfully in accordance with the operational requirements of A R Natural Exports Lanka (Pvt) Ltd and has contributed significantly to improving operational efficiency, process integration, traceability, data management, and decision-making across the organization.

Throughout the project, Mr. Samarathunga S.H.P.N.D and Mr. Perera K.C.D demonstrated excellent technical knowledge, professionalism, commitment, and problem-solving skills. Their contribution has been instrumental in the successful implementation of this innovative digital solution for the Kithul industry.

We are pleased to acknowledge their valuable work and wish them every success in their future academic and professional careers.

Yours faithfully,

Champika Vincent
Director

A R Natural Exports Lanka (Pvt) Ltd
